PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 29.—The road back to Bataan and Corregidor was strewn with the wreckage of many more Japanese ships and planes today following a third assault at the heart of enemy power in the central Philippines by United States carrier planes.

Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet warbirds destroyed or damaged at least 65 Japanese ships and demolished 36 planes during a blistering third strike executed Saturday in the Bisayas group of islands, in the geographic center of the Philippine archipelago.

In addition, 20 to 30 small boats were wrecked or damaged, boosting to 95 the probable total toll of surface ships bagged by the raiders from Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's carriers operating with Halsey's Third Fleet.

By DESMOND TIGHE

AT BRITISH 2ND ARMY HDQ., Sept. 29.—The Germans have become more aggressive on all fronts. Three counter-attacks which they threw in east of Nijmegen were all beaten off.

Canadian troops have advanced between 2 and 3 miles across the Turnhout canal near the village of Oostbrecht.

The communique said that violent fighting has broken out along the German-Holland frontier in the region east of Nijmegen and west of Venlo as a result of Lieut.-Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's attempts to widen the Eindhoven-Nijmegen corridor.

Huge Allied Forces Massing To Strike At Siegfried Line

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)

Allied armies facing the German border in overwhelming strength today appeared to be completing preparations for a major attempt to smash through the Siegfried line.

Forces of the British Second Army hammered against weakening Nazi resistance to extend and broaden their corridor in central Holland. But even more important developments appeared to be in the making along the Moselle, where the United States Army of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., put an end to its positional fighting and began jabbing in strength along a 130-mile front.

There was every indication that despite Prime Minister Winston Churchill's warning the war may go over into the spring of 1945, field commanders plan, if possible, to shatter German defense strength before the first snows of winter fall.

Nine Are Killed In Train Wreck

Believe More Than 75 Injured In Train Crash In Iowa During Night

MISSOURI VALLEY, Ia., Sept. 29.—(INS)—Nine persons were killed and more than 75 injured, many seriously, when a fast Chicago and North Western railroad freight train sideswiped a passenger train in the North Western yards on the outskirts of Missouri Valley last night.

The passenger train, nine cars enroute from Sioux City, Ia., to Omaha, Neb., was pulling through the yards when the "Calumet," a meat train from Omaha to Chicago, plunged into the side of the fifth coach back of the engine, turning over five coaches that were loaded with passengers, mostly service men.

The injured were brought to Council Bluffs, Ia., and Omaha by special train and by ambulances from Port Crook and nearby towns.

Service Men Aid
Rescue work was started immediately following the crash by members of the armed forces. They broke into the twisted wreckage of the steel cars and started carrying out the dead and injured. ### Mail Pickup Pilot Killed In Crash At State College

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 29.—(INS)—The pilot was killed and his mechanic escaped with slight injuries today when an All-American Aviation mail pickup plane crashed at State College about 9:25 this morning.

The pilot, Wilson A. Scott, 32, of Pittsburgh, was killed almost immediately when the plane crashed as it made its second run over the pickup field in an attempt to grab the mail.

Robert Taylor, 24, the mechanic, also of Pittsburgh, escaped with slight injuries although the plane was badly damaged. Its cargo of eight bags of mail, however, was undamaged.

The ship had just left Phillipsburg, where it had made a mail pickup, and was en route to Bellefonte, Lockhaven and Williamsport before starting back to Pittsburgh.

The official statement, which claimed the attempt "failed," said a "terrific" force of sky troopers was landed in the region in what it termed "an attempt to break into Germany."

The communique said that violent fighting has broken out along the German-Holland frontier in the region east of Nijmegen and west of Venlo as a result of Lieut.-Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's attempts to widen the Eindhoven-Nijmegen corridor.

Argentina Pledges That Any Person On United Nations War List Cannot Enter

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Argentina pledged today that Argentine territory would offer no haven for any person named on a United States war criminal list.

Refuting rumors that Axis leaders planned to seek safety in the Argentine after the collapse of Germany, the Argentine government published a note handed to the British foreign office on September 26 by Argentine Ambassador to Britain, Miguel Angel Carcano.

The note said that the impossibility of war criminals crossing wide stretches of United Nations controlled ocean between Europe and the Argentine was apparent, and added that the Argentine government reaffirmed previous declarations that no persons named as Axis war criminals would be admitted to Argentina.

Other American forces of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's army pushed ahead on Imola to the east.

Headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson said that the Fifth Army, by pushing forward its west flank deep into the Gothic defense zone, can now be said to have penetrated the Gothic wall of fortifications along its entire front with the exception of a very small area on the west coast of Italy.

Russian Forces Driving Across Czech Border

Advance Is Aimed At Knocking Hungary Out Of War In Near Future

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 29.—Soviet Ukrainian forces slashed into German defenses along the Polish-Czechoslovakia border smashed the northern arm of a giant pincer drive into Czech territory today.

Russian fighters seized the vital rail town of Vydran, four miles within Czechoslovakia, in the two-pronged assault aimed at knocking Hungary out of the war.

Smashing out major gains through the Lypkovo pass to occupy the entrance to a frontier railroad tunnel at Vydran.

Heavy mountain fighting in which Soviet forces operating in broken country substituted American Indian tactics for overwhelming hammerblows against Nazi strongholds, preceded the Russian penetration of Czechoslovak territory.

Surge Nearer Riga
Far to the north, Soviet armies converging on the Latvian capital of Riga surged ever nearer that vital Baltic port as Russian units in bloody fighting drove deep wedges into strong German defense positions designed to stand off the Russian drive and protract the Baltic campaign throughout the winter and into the next spring.

Along the shores of the Gulf of Riga Russian combat team drove Nazi defenders from Garmuzia and Nirzkalns, two heavily fortified German strongholds.

Before the weight of concentrated Russian advances, the Soviet high command communique reported that desperate Nazi defenders of the Baltic region were concentrating on demolition activities, blowing up highways and bridges.

The fighting below Sanok, near the Polish Czechoslovak frontier was officially described as stubborn by the Russian communique. Nazi elements hurled armored and tank reserves into battle in frantic efforts to break up the Russian advances.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Squadrons of American Marauder and Mitchell bombers dashed across the channel in daylight today in continued support of allied forces battling on the continent.

While some forces headed out toward Calais and Dunkirk, others swept toward Holland.

Coastal towns in southeastern England again were shaken by heavy explosions emanating from the Calais harbor area.

In an early night assault the Rhineland industrial city of Emmerich was blasted by Mitchell and Boston bombers of the RAF and Second Tactical Air Force.

British night bombers attacked the German industrial city of Brunswick while intruder craft attacked Nazi airfields well behind the German lines.

It seems to me that the time to hold picnics should be in the fall, when the flies are gone and the spiders too and the ants would forget to call. When you could eat with the knowledge that the chiggers would leave you alone, and the wiggy folks that are picnic pests would be harbored under a stone.

The butter would be just as hard as rock, and you'd have a chance of eating a bite without getting handful of dirt. It's just an idea, as you might surmise, but folks think it somewhat late for picnics outdoors, but I'm not sure, the weather is fifty-eight.

Americans Are Striking Along 130-Mile Front

Paris Radio Says Yanks Break Through Siegfried Line Near Aachen

COUNTER-ATTACK OF NAZIS FOILED

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 29.—American armies striking at the Germans along a 130-mile front from Luxembourg to the Belfort Pass in France were reported by the Nazis today to have breached German lines on both sides of the road leading to Belfort and Montbéliard.

Word that breaches had been smashed into German positions on the approaches to the vital Belfort gap came from the Nazi transoceanic news agency at the same time headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that American and French forces of the Sixth Army group had advanced on several sectors and won towns on the northeast approaches to the Belfort Pass.

Report Yanks Break Through
An Exchange Telegraph Company dispatch from London quoted a Paris radio report as saying that the Americans had broken through the Siegfried line at a new point 15 miles southeast of Aachen.

An official headquarters spokesman said that with the Sixth Army group advance the Germans were showing signs of corresponding aggressiveness.

On the approaches to Belfort the towns of Bult and Destord were occupied against strong artillery and mortar resistance. The Allies captured Dodelles, eight miles due east of Epinal and several villages between Tendon and St. Anne.

The Germans tried an unsuccessful strong counter-attack at Cleurieu, four miles northeast of Rupt and southeast of Remiremont where the enemy is well dug in.

The allies maintained positions in the Moselle valley, where they now are well dug in, and repulsed several counter-attacks in the Thillot area.

Nazis Seek To Halt Advance Upon Bologna

By FRANK CONNIEFF
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY BEYOND THE GOTHIC LINE, Sept. 29.—(INS)—A fierce battle for the roads is raging today beyond the shattered German Gothic line.

The enemy is throwing in reinforcements and depleting other sectors in the hope of staving off a fifth army thrust aimed at Bologna.

With the weather worsening, the roads are becoming all-important. The fifth army holds a large portion of route 65, an all-weather high road from Florence to Bologna, and is fanning out to control secondary arteries.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring apparently is following Adolf Hitler's dictate to hold every inch, but the Yanks are moving forward in grim and stubborn battles.

airfields on Cebu, Leyte, Mactan and southern Luzon and attacked all shipping in the region.

All seven of the Jap interceptors were blasted out of the sky and 29 more were wrecked on the ground, bringing to 1,014 the number of enemy planes destroyed in devastating carrier plane attacks on the Philippines which began September 8.

Four Japanese war vessels, including one destroyer and three destroyer-escorts, were sunk in the latest attack Saturday and two additional destroyer escorts were damaged.

Jap Ships Sunk
Jap ships definitely sunk in Saturday's strikes were:

One destroyer, one troop transport, three large cargo ships, three large oil tankers, six medium cargo ships, five small cargo ships, three destroyer escorts.

Jap ships damaged, including more than one probably sunk, were:

Two large oil tankers, one large cargo ship, one medium oil tanker, fifteen medium cargo ships, one small transport, twenty-one small cargo ships, two destroyer escorts.

A compilation of figures released by Pacific fleet headquarters since the Halsey-Mitscher team first struck the southern Philippines September 8 raised enemy losses to staggering proportions and indicated that the backbone of Japanese aerial and shipping strength in the islands may well be broken.

Results from Saturday's raid raised the toll exacted from the enemy in the Philippines to 144 ships sunk, 180 damaged, and 1,014 planes destroyed in addition to 200 small surface craft sunk or damaged.

Total American losses from the same operations were: 42 pilots, 23 crewmen and 61 planes. Even in previous raids when the Japs sent swarms of interceptors into the air to meet the American threat, not a single vessel of the United States fleet was damaged and Saturday the virtually nominal air resistance was speedily wiped out.

Headquarters said that the two enemy fleet tankers were sunk at Coron Bay where carrier bombers and fighters made "a particularly heavy strike."

four German counter-attacks, supported by armor, were beaten off. Chateau Salins was regained by the Americans after it had changed hands three times.

Saarbrücken Area Pounded Hard By Allied Bombers

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—American B-26 Marauders, carrying the current blasting of Nazi Germany into the third successive day, struck heavy blows at Siegfried Line fortifications and marshalling yards in the Saarbrücken area of the Reich by daylight today.

The medium bombers struck hard at the Weidenheim area of the west wall, about 20 miles east of Saarbrücken, and at rail points in Saarbrücken itself. Results were described by returning fliers as "good."

The Saarbrücken region is in the path of Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton's Third American Army.

Other daylight raiding formations, believed composed of Marauders and B-25 Mitchells, headed out over the channel in the direction of Dunkerque and Calais.

AMERICANS ARE STRIKING ALONG 130-MILE FRONT

Southeast of Thillot an advance of up to five miles was scored, with the allies reaching Servance. Several towns between Melisul and Thillot were liberated.

Push East Of Lure
The allies, a headquarters spokesman said, completely occupied the forest of Mont De Valles and pushed east of Lure. The Germans heavily counter-attacked with tanks and artillery near Elout but were repulsed and the Americans moved forward to occupy Claregouttes, 11 miles west of Belfort.

Weather in the Belfort area was described at headquarters as extremely bad. It was raining and snow covered high ground.

At the northern end of the allied battle line troops of the British Second army operating east of the Eindhoven-Nijmegen road slowly pushed the Germans back to clear the area along the Maas (Meuse) river near the German frontier. Fighting was in progress east of the Nijmegen-Arnhem road.

The British met strong German defenses five miles west of Veghel and in the vicinity of Schijndel.

Driven From Several Towns
In the action from southeast Luxembourg to the Epinal-Belfort area the Germans were driven from several towns, including Remich, in Luxembourg 29 miles southwest of Trier.

Northeast of Ponta Mousson, on the Third army front, the Germans were driven from Port-Sur-Seille.

(East of Ponta Mousson, the Nazi DNB agency said, the Americans went over to a general attack on a broad front.)

(The anxiety of the Nazis over the forward movement of the allies along the German defense line was expressed in a dispatch from a German correspondent at Nazi western front headquarters who said that 2,500,000 allied troops were assembled along a 450-mile front from the Alps to the North Sea for an attack on the Reich.)

Northeast of Ponta Mousson, on the Third army front, the Germans were driven from Port-Sur-Seille.

East of Nancy several German counter-attacks were repulsed near Pettencourt, Bezange and Coincourt and the Americans advanced three miles.

Seize Ground In Forest
High ground was seized from the Germans in the forest of Parroy. Concentrations of German troops, tanks and supplies in the forest were heavily bombed preceding the Yank assault.

Substantial advances were made in the Epinal-Belfort sector toward the southern end of the German line of fortifications. Progress was made despite increased German aggressiveness.

Northeast of Epinal the villages of Bult and Destord were captured in an advance of several miles.

The northwestern approaches of the Belfort pass were seized by the allies.

A strong counter-attack by the Germans to prevent the march on the Belfort pass was repulsed with heavy losses to the Nazis.

Strengthen Corridor
Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that allied troops in Holland steadily strengthened both the east and west flanks of the corridor running northward from Eindhoven through Nijmegen in the direction of Arnhem.

German counter-attacks from Shindel were driven back from the second army made a limited advance in the direction of Herdogenbosch (Bois-Le-Ouc).

The bridgehead over the Antwerp-Turnhout canal was further extended.

(A Reuters correspondent with the British Second army reported that German resistance was weakening and that British armor and artillery were striking a succession of heavy blows on both sides of the Netherlands corridor.)

mile front extending from the Alps to the North sea, awaiting the signal for concerted offensive.

It appeared that this would be preceded by a drive against the Belfort gap and into the Rhineland. The attempt at a swift "end run" around the northern terminus of the Siegfried line failed when British paratroopers had to abandon their bridgehead at Arnhem, but this failure in itself increased the likelihood of a frontal assault being made.

So far as could be determined in the face of a blanketing censorship thrown over developments on all European fronts, Gen. Patton is cleaning up the entire Epinal-Belfort area in what could be little else than preparation for a general offensive.

Military officials let it be known some time ago that the Third Army had run ahead of its fuel supplies and brought its swift advance through France to a halt at the edge of the Moselle river until gasoline and oil could be brought up.

Supplies By Parachute
For the local actions that have characterized the Moselle front recently, fuel supplies were dropped by parachute. By now it is probable that the highly effective means of fuel transportation utilized by the Allies have eliminated this temporary makeshift and Gen. Patton's armor probably is ready to go ahead the moment the signal is given.

This signal probably waits upon a number of things. One, of course, is the weather, and in eastern France autumn is a tricky season. Another is reconnaissance and that again to be effective depends upon good visibility. A third is artillery and air force barrage to precede attack and this in turn depends upon propitious conditions.

In the meantime, Gen. Patton and the British to the north were making deep and effective cuts into Nazi strength.

During the last 24 hours, for example, Gen. Patton's armor destroyed 82 German tanks in heavy fighting east of Nancy. A number of German counterattacks were hurled back as the enemy apparently attempted to disrupt the American organizational preparations.

Allied war planes maintained their unslackened tempo of attack against enemy objectives, with particular attention paid to the northern coast of France. An unofficial report said that the German garrison at Calais, chief nest of the Nazi robot bombs, had asked for an opportunity to surrender but in spite of this fighting still was under way. The Citadel guarding the great port and dock area was firmly in Canadian hands.

when a gridding crash occurred that seemed to last for several seconds, then the train turned over with a great crash. The confusion was terrible. Moans and cries of the injured arose amid the noise of the pile-up. People and baggage were piled on one another and it was a miracle that more people were not killed."

The Missouri Valley City hall was turned into a morgue. The bodies of three soldiers were taken to Fort Crook, and the injured military personnel was being cared for in military hospitals.

European Trips Barred

Steamship companies report a flood of civilian applications for passage to Europe as soon as the war there is over. Doubtless many of these applicants are business men who would like to renew their old connections or reestablish their old offices abroad.

Yet postwar sightseers probably figure in large number in these applications to get over to Europe. In any case, all such impatient applicants evidently have reckoned without their host—who, in this case, happens to be Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

General Eisenhower has issued a directive curtailing the plans of a large number of American and British representatives of various government departments to transfer their activities from London to Paris and other liberated Western European centers of population. He has limited to a minimum the number of non-combatants who may go to Europe even on government business. Underlying General Eisenhower's restrictions is the governing consideration that European food and transportation systems are already taxed to the limit.

In the circumstances, all those who can hardly wait to have the war over, so they can get to Europe to view the ruins, will have to reshape their postwar planning along more sensible lines and put their spare money to more practical use.

Japs Push Production

Those who think that too much stress is being placed on the necessity of keeping American workers engaged in essential jobs would do well to pay more heed to what the Japs are doing in that line. A Tokyo broadcast, overheard by United States government monitors, quoted the Tokyo Weekly Economic Review as warning the Japanese people that, despite a claimed five-fold increase in Japanese war production since the beginning of hostilities, "the war situation requires more than what we are producing now."

The Tokyo production said it was imperative for the nation to put all its "strength and material" into war production, particularly planes and vital raw materials. It called for a reorganization of wartime production controls and the closing of all inefficient war industries.

As the war progresses westward, the Japanese gain the advantages of shorter supply lines. They can make much more effective use of the war implements they possess, and they can move their forces with greater ease and speed to the point where they are most needed.

Recently, Rear Admiral Thomas L. Gatch judge advocate general of the United States Navy, warned that the war in the Pacific will be long and tough and reminded his hearers that there is no "easy outflanking maneuver." He said that since the Japs have shown that they prefer death to surrender even in the most hopeless situations, "it must be a fight to the death."

The fact that American armed forces are steadily winning victories over the Japs must not lead to the assumption that the war against the Nipponese is nearly over. The emphasis which they place on increased production of war material indicates that they intend to fight doggedly until their homeland is taken from them.

Policy Of Occupation

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has announced the supreme command's policy for ruling Germany. It is a policy of firmness. It decrees dissolution of the Nazi political and military establishments and the taking over of the German government by the Allied armies. The Allies will operate the mails, telephone, telegraph and radio systems and supervise censorship of all civilian communications, which means mainly the press.

Allied military marks will become the legal tender of Germany and the Allied military government will control transfers of property, including foreign exchange assets. Repatriation of war prisoners also will be entirely in the Allied hands.

All the German racial and religious laws "are abrogated," and the German youth law, the swastika and all the other trappings of the Hitler regime have been outlawed, and English declared the official language in all matters relating to military government.

As soon as conditions permit, General Eisenhower will open regular courts. The death penalty has been decreed for any German who acts as a spy, aids the Nazis in any way, who deliberately misleads Allied forces, or who is found guilty of looting or pillaging.

This is military rule. It will be necessary and there can be full dependence on General Eisenhower's judgment in extending these rules. It is necessary, of course, that Allied political leaders move in to relieve the military commanders at the earliest possible moment and get to the job of governing Germany until a final peace treaty can be written.

A vast job awaits the Allies in Germany—the staggering task of reeducating millions of Germans who have been brought up under the most monstrous lies in history, and who know nothing else. It is a task which involves not only the communications system of the nation, but the schools.

It will do no good to get rid of Hitler, Goering, Goebbels, Himmler and all the rest of their evil gang. They have skillfully polluted a whole generation. That generation must be assured of a reeducation in humanity.

This Is Not America

Because a national election is soon to be held while the country is engaged in a war, a lot of people assume that this event in itself proves that American freedom is secure. Such an idea is hot air, pure and simple. American political liberty is based upon economic liberty—the right of a man to create and run a business or hold a job unhindered by coercion or dictation from any source, in a free competitive market. The exigencies of war have banned the free market. Unless it is restored, our economic liberty and our political liberty are in deadly danger of destruction.

The completeness of the extinction of the free market is eloquently emphasized in the current bulletin of the National Association of Food Chains. Practically the entire contents under fifty or sixty headings is devoted to informing food retailers on the latest government decrees affecting the bread and butter existence of the American people. A few of them read as follows: New Point Value Charts, Rubber Order Eased, Used Commercial Vehicle Prices, Staple Control Revoked, Ration Bank Deposits, New Trade Point Values, Agricultural Container Prices, Snap Bean and Cucumber Prices, Storage Restrictions Tightened, OPA Boards of Review, OPA Procedure Regulations, Fresh Vegetable Pricing, Potato Prices Raised, New Red Stamps Valid. And so on, ad infinitum.

This is not the American way of doing business. It is not a free market. It continued indefinitely into the peace, it will result in the destruction of freedom. As the magazine Life points out in discussing the problem of reconversion: "The only proper objective of government economic policy is to strengthen the free market. For the free market is the only economic system in which Americans can safely count to increase their standard of living, release their own creative energy, use their resources efficiently, govern the infinitely complex needs of their daily trading and protect their political democracy, all at the same time."

Longer War In Europe Evident

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The rosy dream of an early collapse of Germany is rapidly fading away, and all the signs point to hard fighting still ahead.

Our military planners had pinned great hopes on the airborne operation in Holland, the greatest of its kind in military history. If it had worked perfectly, in accord with the blueprint drawn up weeks in advance, then the end of the war in Europe would today be definitely in sight.

Top military men counted so much on that stroke that even they may have been swayed by an optimism which at this moment hardly seems justified. Of course, the airborne operation must not yet be discounted as a failure. But it is obvious that it hasn't achieved the immediate success which had been hoped for.

Resistance Stiffens

German resistance has stiffened all along the Siegfried line. This is not France. Every inch of the way must be contested. In the light of changed conditions, it may turn out that General De Gaulle was not far from when he predicted the other day that the war would go into 1945. Our own General Eisenhower has said, and he repeated it recently, that the end in Europe will come this year, and "like" has a pretty good record as a prophet.

The truth is that the German troops are fighting on the soil of their homeland with desperate ferocity. And the tragedy is that stupidity here in America is helping to brace the Nazis for this last-ditch stand.

It is the climax of a long and painful story. From the very beginning, we have given little Dr. Goebbels one propaganda stick after another with which to drive on the faltering German people.

In part, this was unavoidable. We do have free speech here, and writers and speakers who want to express themselves on the necessity for carving Germany up into little bits can do so. No matter how irresponsible the source of the articles that took this line, twisted little Goebbels could make it sound as though it had been officially inspired.

German Propaganda

Information out of Germany indicates that for at least a year and a half, this has been the only propaganda line with any real weight inside the battered Reich. Over and over and over again, the German people have been told in the press and on the radio that defeat would mean their annihilation, and over and over and over again, we have furnished the propagandists with some fair documentation.

Now comes a cabinet committee appointed to discuss the future of Germany, and what do we get? We get "leaks" about a furious dispute between the members of this committee, with Secretaries Hull and Stimson on one side and Secretary Morgenthau on the other.

The Wall Street Journal has carried a detailed account of what purports to be a digest of the Morgenthau proposal, and no reputation has come from the secretary of the treasury as I write. The Morgenthau plan calls for the removal of all industry from the Reich, for reducing the entire population to the status of small farmers.

While it might be desirable to do that, it is utterly impossible. It is fantastic that it should be allowed to circulate as coming from a responsible source. The Nazi radio is said to be devoted to this one theme night and day.

You cannot take 80,000,000 people in the midst of Europe's complicated civilization and move the clock back two centuries. Such a sincere and honest liberal as H. N. Brundage, the Evening writer, is even doubtful whether it is possible to give East Prussia to Poland without sowing the seeds of future wars.

If we convince the Germans that nothing but complete destruction lies ahead, then they will fight on. Let's stop helping Dr. Goebbels.

PAGING THE CRIME DOCTOR! A salesman making a two weeks' stay in town bought some limburger cheese to eat in his room. When he got ready to leave, he still had about half the cheese left.

He didn't want to pack it in his baggage nor did he want to leave it lying in the room. After puzzling for a time, he had a bright idea. He went over to the window, carefully removed a plant from its pot, buried the cheese and replaced the plant.

A few days later he received a telegram from the hotel: "We give up. Where did you put it?"

Vacant minds are like vacant lots—both rather rubbishy.

The man who minds his own business has not much time on his hands for anything else.

A local woman, a bit overweight, visited a dress shop. "Can you alter a dress to fit me?" she asked. "Certainly not," replied the sales lady. "That isn't done any more. You'll have to be altered to fit the dress."

Bend your head as far back as you can, making an arch with the small of your back but not moving your hips or stomach. Do this six times, then stand perfectly still, raise the upper part of your chest as much as you can possibly stretch it. Do this six times also. Then stand with your heels, calves, lower back, shoulders and the back of your head flat against the wall. Tense your whole body in this position, then relax it completely. While repeating this six times, assure yourself that you will thereafter hold yourself that way. If when you sit or walk, you will always hold up your diaphragm, this will automatically throw your shoulders back to the proper position and give you a graceful carriage.

"I am a typist and I find that my work is making me round shouldered and 'droopy'. Do you know of any way I can avoid this tendency?" The girl next to me doesn't have this trouble.

Answer: Train yourself always to sit forward on the edge of your chair so that you occupy only the front quarter of it. Our soldiers are being taught this trick for the maintenance of straight backs. You will probably find that the girl next to you has mastered it. Sitting all the way back in a chair will always give you a tendency to slump into a slumped curve which if not corrected in time may become chronic. If you have already developed round shoulders correct them with these simple exercises before your mirror:

Bend your head as far back as you can, making an arch with the small of your back but not moving your hips or stomach. ## MEMORIZING FIGURE FACTS

"Dear Dr. Myers: My daughter, soon 10, is about to enter the fifth grade. Her other work is average or above but in arithmetic she has always been poor. She becomes extremely nervous and excited when working on arithmetic. Please send in the enclosed self-addressed envelope your sheets of addition and subtraction facts."

They were sent and most of the suggestions given later in this article were written to her. Not long ago, you had an article about teaching the number combinations to children. Do you think the child should be taught the sum of 2 and 4 without specifying, for example, that 2 apples and 4 apples are 6 apples?

"I have noticed that some of my pupils in the third grade have been counting to themselves, especially when they have such hard combinations as 9 and 6 or 8 and 9. Wouldn't there be more speed and accuracy if they were set to learn these basic combinations by heart? Of course, children should have developed number sense before reaching the third grade. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter."

I agreed with this teacher. Indeed, I have been urging parents and teachers for years to have the child memorize the basic addition and subtraction facts (and there are only 100 of each) mechanically, just as they learn to spell. Thousands of my combination sheets, as the mother who wrote that letter did, are in use.

Of course, the child should not memorize these facts until he can interpret their meaning. He should know that when he adds 2 and 6 they might be apples, elephants, anything. But he is seriously hampered at dragging along the apples or elephants or any other objects the numbers might stand for.

Early Training No doubt your child before entering the first grade has counted objects and knows the number of things each of the first ten digits stands for. He also knows that by putting a smaller number of things together he gets a larger number of them. At school he needs more exercise in getting meanings of this sort. Let him by counting things learn, for example, that by adding 3 pebbles and 5 pebbles he gets a larger number of pebbles. Do like-wise with other combinations. But do not have him dwell on counting out 3 pebbles and 5 pebbles, but remember that 3 and 5 make 8. As you see, if he tries to learn the number facts by practice at counting objects, he will soon have the habit of always counting real or imaginary objects when confronted with any other combination like 7 and 8.

Then the Allies will move a military government in to occupy the defeated country. It is not expected that the Germans will be as civil to the Allies—or specifically to the Americans—as they were after the last war.

Colonies To Be Post-War Stumbling Blocks
 British And French Hope To Retain Control
 Warns Americans Not To Prove Too Amiable

By HELEN ESSARY

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—One of the hitches in the peace planning is the determination of both France and Great Britain to keep the colonies they had before the war.

France wants to hold on to Indo-China, Java, New Caledonia and the rest. Russia and the United States are not too pleased with this ambition.

However, Britain supports France in her wish. In fact, Britain insists that France shall have all her insular and colonial possessions restored to her.

There are two reasons for Britain's support of France. Britain wishes to hold on to her own colonies after the war. Perhaps more important is the second reason for Britain's support of France's peace demand.

Britain is planning a post-war alliance with France—something on the order of a Federation of Western Europe.

Since the menace of Germany will continue for many generations, England needs the help of France, her closest friendly neighbor, for years to come.

New Caledonia Is Prize France, I understand, continues to worry about the disposition of New Caledonia. Here is a spot on which the United States has cast an interested eye. (And why not?)

New Caledonia is fabulously rich in almost untouched mineral deposits. One large nickel mine there is largely controlled by British interests. The British are wise investors.

The French have permitted the island to remain largely undeveloped. Noumea, the largest town, has a beautiful harbor.

Many sharp-thinking Americans do not wish to acquire New Caledonia—or any other island. They say that island possessions are more pain than profit. They are expensive and a great care. For example they point to the grief brought on by present island possessions—the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, the Philippines, Guam, Hawaii.

Some state department prophets say that the war with Germany will be over in October. A month or six weeks will see the end of the formal fighting with the Nazis.

Then the Allies will move a military government in to occupy the defeated country. It is not expected that the Germans will be as civil to the Allies—or specifically to the Americans—as they were after the last war.

Older Germans may recognize the inevitable and bow to it superficially at least. But trouble is expected with the young Germans who have been nourished from infancy on the doctrines of the Nationalist Socialist party.

Resistance Of Nazis On Dutch Front Weakens

By DOON CAMPBELL
Reuter Special Correspondent

(Distributed by International News Service)
WITH THE BRITISH SECOND ARMY, Friday, Sept. 29.—German resistance over the Dutch front is weakening as Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's armor and artillery strike a success of heavy blows both sides of the main corridor running north to the Neder Rhine.

Long columns protected by mobile attack guns line both sides of the main road through Holland.

The whole army is filtering into new hard-won ground around Nijmegen and into the box between the Neder Rhine and the Waal.

Between Nijmegen, Elst and right up to the south bank of the Neder Rhine west of Arnhem, the British corridor is becoming stronger, thicker and more densely populated with men, guns and tanks every hour.

Opposition when our patrols turn sharp right or left is patchy and spotty.

The only place where resistance seems to be organized and where the Germans have a connected line is from the western tip of the Reichswald forest up north along the frontier.

The British still are not in Germany in strength but Allied tanks keep slashing across the frontier and blasting pillbox outposts sprouting from Reich soil.

League Of Women Voters' Meeting

J. W. Pattison Speaker At Meeting At Y.W.C.A. On Thursday Evening

"All we're trying to do is get our plan for assessing on an even keel."

John W. Pattison, chief assessor for Lawrence county, asserted in closing his address before the New Castle League of Women Voters meeting in the Y.W.C.A. lounge on Thursday evening. Until we have a standard base for judging assessments, we will not have equitable assessment in all 37 districts of the county, he said.

Mr. Pattison had been asked to speak on the new plan for assessing property as provided in an act passed by the state legislature in 1943. At the close of his talk he answered questions from the audience. He explained the steps taken and under consideration by an assessment board for achieving equitable assessment of real estate throughout the tax districts of the county.

Miss Marguerite Uhl presided at the meeting and introduced Mr. Pattison. She also gave a report during the evening on "What Congress Is Doing."

A summary report of recent United Nations conferences was given by Mrs. Kenneth Beck. Miss Marguerite White's report was a survey of labor union trends.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" with Mrs. James Gillespie at the piano.

Next meeting of the league will be October 26 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. State officers of the L.W.V. will be guests at this meeting. Pro and con discussion of the Equal Rights amendment will be a feature of the program.

WOMAN'S TRIAL NEARING CLOSE IN CALIFORNIA

By MILTON G. DUNLAP
U. S. Staff Correspondent

SALINAS, Calif., Sept. 29.—Attractive Mrs. Frances Andrews, 38, Carmel Valley socialite and ranch heiress charged with the murder of 19-year-old Jay Lovett, faced another grim session in court today as the sensational trial neared the close of its second week. She has heard most of the Lovett family testify against her, and today she probably will hear the father of young Jay, Luther Lovett, Sr., although he has been confined to his bed for the past several days with a heart ailment.

Mrs. Andrews heard Jay's mother testify yesterday that at no time did she accuse Mrs. Andrews of murdering Jay, a fact which Defense Attorney Leo Friedman later declared was a tremendously favorable point in Mrs. Andrews' behalf.

Mrs. Lovett scoffed at the idea of the defense's claim that Jay Lovett committed suicide. "He was a sound healthy boy, and on the day he died I've never seen a happier child in my life," she said.

Another important witness was Samuel Murphy, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, who testified that, save for a "greasy smudge" on the gun which was found beside the body of Jay, and admittedly owned by the comely Mrs. Andrews, there were no fingerprints.

John R. Shields Missing In Action

Flight Officer From Slippery Rock
R. D. 2 Listed As Missing
In Pacific Area

Flight Officer John R. Shields, who has been with the AAF based on Saipan since shortly after the island was captured, is listed as missing in action on August 14 by the War Department, according to word sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shields, R. D. 2, Slippery Rock.

F. O. Shields was sent overseas last January and was first stationed in the Hawaiian Islands where he received training as a gunner. He was already qualified to serve as a bombardier-navigator when he graduated as a member of the second class to finish the combined courses at Childress Army Air Field, Childress, Texas.

A former employee of the Shelby Tube Mill of Ellwood City, F. O. Shields has been in the Air Corps since March, 1942.

Sgt. Kenneth Snyder Tells Experiences

Local Marine Returns Home On Furlough After Combat In South Pacific Area

Staff Sgt. Kenneth D. Snyder, of the U. S. Marine Corps, has concluded a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Snyder, of New Galilee, route 1, and has assumed new duties at North Carolina.

Sgt. Snyder recently returned from service in the South Pacific war theater.

He enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps in February, 1942, and since has served in Espiritu Santo, Guadalcanal, Bougainville, Mundo and the New Hebrides. While serving as a mechanic with the Red Devils squadron the presidential citation was received.

Sgt. Snyder crossed the equator with James Roosevelt and attended many of his discussions.

Upon arriving in California, Sgt. Snyder had a thrilling experience when he met his brother, Seaman 2-c John C. Snyder, of the Seabees, who was then stationed at Camp Parks, Calif., and now is serving overseas. Seaman Snyder was inducted into the Navy in March, 1944, and was later transferred to the Seabees. This meeting was the first for the two brothers for over two and a half years. This was Sgt. Snyder's first furlough home.

The two brothers visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartle, former residents of Ellwood City and now of Vallejo, Calif.

Army Ready To Aid When Needed

The P. L. D. Reading circle met recently at the home of Mrs. Lavina Robinson, State street. Mrs. Hope Edwards was chairman of the interesting program that was presented.

RALLY DAY PLANS FOR ST. ANDREWS

large attendance of the Sunday school and church membership will be present on this date, it is expected. Superintendent J. C. Hetrick had received cooperation for this occasion, which will be underway at 10 a. m.

STEAL AUTO ACCESSORIES

Charles Blakely, County Line street, told police he parked his car yesterday in a South Mill street lot and a flashlight, jack and tools were stolen from the auto.

Warn Neutrals On Harboring Hitler Or Gang

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull disclosed Thursday that all neutrals, including Argentina as well as European nations, have been warned against granting asylum to Adolf Hitler and other Axis leaders on pain of suffering adverse relations with the United States "for years to come."

The State Department, Hull said, has formally told all neutrals they should refuse "to admit Axis leaders and their henchmen and criminal subordinates to their territories."

Already assurances have been received from the governments of Sweden, Turkey, Switzerland and Spain, he announced.

No response has yet been received from Portugal and Argentina.

The action of the United States, Hull declared, has the support and approval of the British and Soviet governments.

One purchase in anticipation of the receipts has already been made, that of 31 remedial benches which are now in use in the reconditioning work at the annex.

Cotton Goods To Continue Tight Even After War

For One To Two Years Following War's End Supply Will Be Hard To Get

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—The Office of War Information reported today that the current tight supply of cotton goods—now greater than at any period during the war—is expected to continue for a period varying from one to two years after the collapse of Germany.

In a lengthy report on information obtained from the War Production Board and the foreign economic administration, the OWI said it is generally agreed that "the time for clothes rationing is past," but declared that military needs will cut into civilian production of fabrics for house furnishings and may also affect production of work clothes and automobile tires.

Recently announced cutbacks on both tire cord and denim will mean a loss during third quarter production of cord for four million civilian tires and of denim for about five million pairs of overalls, although other factors would probably have prevented manufacture of the tires anyway," the report said.

Although denim and tire cords are essential materials, both short in supply, the army's need for tents may have to come before civilian tires or overalls," the OWI said.

Washington Coming Out Of Black-Out

Capitol Gets Painted And Lighted Again As Threat Of Bombing Disappears

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The national capital is being groomed to meet its public in pre-war style today after almost three pallid years under wartime wraps.

The capital is getting a new paint job and when it is completed the dome will once more be flood-lit every night as it was before the war.

By the event that peace in Europe comes before the painting is finished the capitol dome will probably blaze with lights in celebration for at least one night.

The peeling White House will not be painted until the war is over but workmen are busy filling up holes in the plaster so the job, when it is done, will be accomplished smoothly and quickly.

Priceless Documents Come Out
The original documents of the declaration of independence and the constitution of the United States are being removed from their hermetically sealed, waterproof metal hiding place and will be placed once again in the Library of Congress at the stroke of noon on Sunday.

At the same time the Lincoln Cathedral copy of the Magna Carta, the two drafts of the Gettysburg Address, the Gutenberg Bible, the Articles of Confederation and the manuscript of Lincoln's second inaugural address will be placed on exhibition in the library in their pre-war places.

Opaque blackout paint is being scraped from the windows of capitol buildings and blackout curtains are being taken down in restaurants, hotels and clubs.

Letter From Abroad 'Okays' Red Cross

S-Sgt. Jack Henebry From England Writes About Coffee, Doughnuts Served At Dawn

From her son "somewhere in England," Mrs. Eva Henebry, 426 Neshannock avenue, has received a letter, a copy of which was released today by the local chapter of the American Red Cross. The letter from S-Sgt. Jack Henebry, of the paratroops, tells one instance of what the Red Cross services overseas mean to men in service. Partial text of his letter follows:

"Mom, I was very glad to hear you're putting in one night a week with the Red Cross. At one time I wouldn't give you a dime for the ARC or the Salvation Army or anything else. But Mom the Red Cross is okay—one morning real early

Super Transport Planes Ordered

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Pittsburgh Central Airlines today announced it had signed a $10,000,000 contract with the Douglas Aircraft company for super four-engine transport planes which "should make trolley runs out of flights between cities 200 miles apart."

PCA President C. Bedell Monroe said the planes' speed of 300 miles per hour would put Pittsburgh and Washington, Detroit and Chicago and New York and Washington within an hour's traveling time of each other.

Local Nurse's Brother Killed

Pvt. Jack Heberling, brother of Cadet Nurse Mary Heberling, of the Jameson Memorial hospital, was killed in action while fighting with the infantry unit in Belgium on September 9, according to the War Department.

Pvt. Heberling, a former employee of the National Tube Company Ellwood City, has been in England since February, 1944. He was with General Patton's army that swept through France in a dash for Germany.

In addition to his sister, Cadet Nurse Heberling, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Kresge Heberling, of Dormont; his mother, Mrs. Anna Heberling, of Zelienople; and two other sisters, Mrs. Oscar Moyer, of Harmony, and Mrs. Norman Miller, of Zelienople.

The discovery of Phoenician coins on the Azore island of Corvo would indicate that it was visited by Carthaginian traders.

High points of this afternoon's program were addresses by Mrs. Archer, on "Methodism in Malaysia," and by Mrs. F. B. Godfrey, field secretary of the W. S. C. S., on "Workshops for the Promotion of the Women's Society of Christian Service." Special music was by David Rees, and was followed by the installation and consecration of officers by Harold McCurdy, district superintendent of the Grove City District.

Thursday Afternoon

In spite of an all-day rain, one hundred and fifty out-of-town delegates, besides the ones from this locality, were present for the workshop service beginning at 1:30 Thursday under the leadership of Mrs. F. S. McKnight. Following the appointment of committees, Mrs. J. L. Bromley, corresponding secretary of the conference, spoke on the state of the society.

Each of the conference officers—Mrs. Bruce S. Wright of Kane, Pa., Mrs. C. Ralph Osborne, Mrs. J. L. Bromley, Mrs. H. R. Shaugberger and Mrs. Roy A. Wade, were then introduced, and gave two-minute summaries of their work. Preceding the special piano music by Mrs. Laird Myers, Mrs. Bruce S. Wright gave the president's message.

Mrs. Roy A. Wade, Mrs. John W. Miller and Mrs. C. R. Osborne brought messages from Ocean Grove, and at 4 o'clock the session broke up into departmental group meetings under the conference officers.

Thursday Evening

Rev. B. R. McKnight, pastor of the host church opened the evening service by leading the devotionals.

Mrs. E. B. Godfrey took up the subject of urban and organizational problems with the delegates, and Mrs. R. L. Archer spoke on "The Early Christian Church in Sumatra and Escape From the War Zone." Benediction by Rev. W. A. Thornton closed the evening session. Special music for the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. Paul McCandless Jr. and organ selections by Mildred Sarver.

The fellowship dinner served to two groups, one at the First Presbyterian church and one at the First Christian, at 5:30, was under the direction of Mrs. Frank W. Moorehead, while arrangements for the executive luncheon earlier in the day were made by Mrs. Perry McCollum.

Hostesses Named

Extend Probe In Sudden Death Of Evangelist

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 29.—(INS)—Investigation into the death of Almee Semple McPherson resumed today as contents of the stomach of the famed evangelist were submitted to laboratory analysis.

Following Mrs. McPherson's death in an Oakland hotel Wednesday morning, an autopsy was performed by two Oakland surgeons but officials still reported death due to "undetermined origin" and ordered extensive laboratory tests to attempt to discover whether or not she died of an overdose of sleeping capsules.

Two physicians who were summoned to Mrs. McPherson's bedside Wednesday morning by her son, Rolf, attributed her sudden death to a heart attack, possibly induced by a dose of sedative, a quantity of which was found in her traveling kit.

The state board of pharmacy stepped officially into the investigation when Joseph Foley, board secretary, announced the board was interested in the source of the capsules.

Hypnotic Sedative
The drug is a hypnotic sedative which requires a doctor's prescription, Foley said. The bottle in which Almee McPherson carried her supply of these capsules shows no indication of its origin—neither any prescription or any indication of where she obtained them.

"Two capsules of this stuff," he added, "are adequate to 'knock out' a normal person. We want to know where Mrs. McPherson got her supply and how much of it she took."

Joseph Fainer, Mrs. McPherson's attorney, however, discounted the importance placed in the presence of the sedative in the evangelist's kit.

"Personally, I am convinced Mrs. McPherson's death was due to natural causes, not sleeping pills," Fainer declared. "I know she has been under severe strain, as a result of much work, plus a tropical illness she incurred in Mexico a few years ago—a kidney affliction. I know she took these capsules for relief, but I am sure they did not cause her death."

Will Cooperate
Fainer added, however, that he would cooperate with state pharmacy board officials in their investigation of the source of the sedative and said he had arranged a conference between investigators and Rolf McPherson, who automatically inherited leadership of the Four Square Gospel church upon his mother's death.

Officials said the laboratory tests may take a week and when reports are submitted, a formal inquest into the death of the evangelist will be held.

Her body was shipped to Los Angeles this morning. Burial will take place in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at Glendale, Cal.

Change Route Of Chicago Postman

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—(INS)—A different postman traveled Eugene J. Wiley's route today.

Postal authorities gave him a "vacation" until Monday while they investigated the charge that while on his twice-daily rounds he carried unduly at the ground floor windows of the Diamond Tool Co. to carry on flirtatious conversation with six girl employees.

The accusation was made by Sheldon Booth, owner of the company, who dubbed the handsome mailman a "Casanova" and said his prolonged conversations interrupted the steady flow of tools for war production.

The indignant girls said it wasn't so at all and countered with a charge that Booth underpaid them. They put an explanation point on their remarks by quitting in a body.

Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said Wiley's record was among the best, but added that the investigation would determine if it was to get a black mark.

Wartime Canning Notes

By Miss Laura Philippi, Home Economics Extension Representative

HOMEMADE KRAUT HELPS MEET DEMANDS FOR IT

Since there will be no commercial canned sauerkraut available for civilians it is a wise homemaker who makes some kraut at home.

Select firm, well-ripened heads of cabbage and allow them to stand a day at room temperature, so the cabbage will lose some of its crispness. This means the cabbage will cut without breaking too much and it will pack more easily. Remove outside green and dirty leaves.

One of two methods may be used.

In the first method, shred cabbage the thickness of a dime. Put it into a clean crock (never use a metal container) or keg, using a three or four-inch layer of cabbage and a layer of salt. Pack the cabbage firmly but do not bruise. Packing is done to remove the air, not to press out any juice. A bottle makes a satisfactory measure. Use a half cup of plain salt to each 10 pounds of cabbage.

When the crock or keg is full, cover the cabbage with a clean cloth and a plate turned upside down. On the plate put a weight that is heavy enough to keep the cabbage under the brine that is formed. Keep the cloth inside the crock or keg to prevent loss of liquid. Put the crock or keg in a warm place, 70 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit, and allow the cabbage to ferment. This will take 10 days to three weeks, depending on the temperature. Remove skum regularly. Keep product under brine, wash and scald cloth often. Fermentation is complete when the bubbling stops.

At the end of the fermentation period, the kraut may be packed into glass jars and processed in the boiling water bath. Process pint jars 25 minutes and quart jars 30 minutes. This processing insures the correct flavor and prevents spoilage. However, if the crock or keg can be stored in a cool place, the kraut may be left in it.

If only a small amount of sauerkraut is wanted, it may be made in glass jars. Shred the cabbage, pack it into quart jars using one teaspoon of salt to each jar. Allow one inch head space. Force a knife or spatula down through the center of the jar and slowly fill with boiling water to cover the cabbage, allowing it to work through the cabbage. Place rubbers and covers on jars and screw lids on loosely. Every two or three days pour the liquid back into the jars. If necessary, add brine to cover kraut. Two teaspoons salt, one cup water. Bubbling will cease when fermentation is complete. Tap jars to remove air bubbles, then seal. It is not necessary to process the jars if a cool storage space is available.

Babson Airs Views On Real Estate Situation

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1944—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 29.—I don't know what is happening in all sections of the country, but I am getting many very bullish reports on the demand for small and medium sized houses. Houses that could have been bought for $7,000 six months ago are now being sold at $10,000. There has not been much activity as yet in vacant land, but houses are turning over very rapidly at large price increases.

What Are the Reasons?
As birds instinctively build nests, so married couples like to have a home. Up to the present time many of them have not had the money to buy a home. Furthermore, there have been enough vacant houses which could be rented. All at once people have realized that they now have enough money to buy a house on a safe mortgage and, at the same time, find it very difficult to rent a house. These people might be doing the wise thing if they can get the houses at reasonable prices; but it would be better for them to "sleep in a tent" for awhile than to pay foolishly high prices.

The real estate market today is where the stock market was in 1928. Then when people suddenly discovered that the supply of good stocks was limited, they stampeded one another to buy stocks. Hence, the market went to unwarranted high prices and then collapsed in the fall of 1929. Frankly, I think the same thing will some day happen again. People will find that the present supply of good stocks is limited and, before long, will stampede to buy them. This will result in the stock market selling at much higher prices; but finally, through a fear of communism or some other bugaboo, prices will again collapse. Both houses and stocks are governed by the same law of action and reaction tempered by the frailties of human nature.

Sell Now Rather Than Buy
During the past few years I have been advising the purchase of homes believing that the then prevailing prices were less than the cost of reproduction. Today, in those sections where there is a scarcity of homes, such real estate is a better sale than a purchase. This does not mean that you should sell yourself out of a home, but if you have more than one house this may be the time to cash in on the extra one.

Germany will crack some time between November 7, 1944, and March 7, 1945. How long Japan will hold out after Germany cracks depends on Uncle Joe Stalin. With his active help we could finish Japan in three months; but without his help it may take up to three years. At any rate, we can now see the end of the conflict which will mean a resumption of building.

What About Land?
After the war the government will encourage the building of houses with favorable loans and other means. Within two years there may be a surplus of new houses for sale at lower prices than you can now buy second-hand houses. This should cause a drop in the prices of the existing houses which are in such demand today. Therefore, if you did not buy a year ago, when I earnestly advised it, don't make any thoughtless real estate purchases now.

There has not been much increase as yet in the price of land. Therefore, this is my advice to readers who want a new home: (1) Continue to save your money, putting one-half in series "E" war bonds and the other half in a savings bank deposit. (2) Begin now to look for a small piece of land where you can get town water, electricity, telephone and space for a small kitchen garden. Have it within walking distance of a store, post office, church and school, or else near a bus line so not to be dependent on an automobile.

Conclusion
Do no building now although you can put in the concrete cellar if you wish to and in most communities can engage the brick, lumber, etc. Get a standard plan from your builder and have it understood that he is to build your house as soon as the war is over. Then you should get a better house than you can now buy and should get it for less money.

Almost a million acres of sub-marginal land have been purchased in the southwestern dust bowl by the Department of Agriculture since 1935.

Churchill Gives Blunt Report On Progress Of War

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's report to the British House of Commons, was, as usual, illuminated by blunt statements of fact.

The prime minister throughout this most frightful of all wars, has told his people the plain truth in plain language, regardless of how bad the conditions were or how black the future looked. That command when he said, we will "fight on the beaches, fight on the roads, fight in the towns and villages." And at that time he knew, and all Britain knew, they were ill-prepared to fight at all. Nevertheless, the sheer will to do and the blunt honesty—won.

From the commencement of his tour of office at the head of the British government, Mr. Churchill has attempted to instill a sure, steady optimism that victory would be ours. He has been determined to stamp out over-optimism just as much as he will not tolerate pessimism. His attitude has been we must give—"sweat, blood and tears." But no matter how long the battle or how much we have to give, we are going to win and we definitely cannot let down in our war effort because of over-optimism. The people must know that even through Hitler and his Axis ideology are defeated, the battle will be tough right up to the last shot or the time when the war lords of Nazi Germany collapse.

Cannot Tell War's Length
No man living can correctly foretell the length of the present war in Europe. Possibly Hitler could if he made up his mind he would surrender tomorrow. But to date there has been no indication of any such decision on his part. Officers of the high command in the fighting zone have no right to say the combat will be finished within a certain period of time or by a certain date. When military officers make such statements regardless of how high their rank, they are only guessing, and their guess may go wrong just the same as anyone else's.

Ask any of our men who are fighting desperately today on the western front—ask the survivors of the entrapped paratroopers—ask the men of General Hodja's army which in two spearheads are attacking Germany out of Belgium—ask any of those tough, hard riding, fast driving warriors of General Patton's 3rd tank army, who have just been thrown back to their original positions in front of Metz—whether they think it's an easy war—whether they think it will end tomorrow?

Ask the paratrooper who is lying in a foxhole undergoing desperately intense, devastating, continuous, night and day attack from our enemies by artillery, mortar, machine gun and small arms fire, who has seen his buddy next to him lose an arm and a leg—and then has lain and wondered if he would be next to sustain such an injury that would leave him a hopeless cripple for the rest of his life—ask him if there is any reason for over-optimism—ask him if he thinks the war in the west will be won tomorrow or in 1945?

In honor and respect to our fighting men there is no room for over-optimism at home.

Dumbarton Oaks
Parley Finished

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(INS)

In a brief ten-line communique, the British, Russian and American delegations to the Dumbarton Oaks conference finally declared today that the first phase of the parley has been completed, resulting in "a large measure of agreement."

In issuing the communique, the delegates for the first time used a short and convenient name for the agency they are endeavoring to establish. They have consistently avoided the phrase, "League of Nations." They have now named it the "World Security Organization."

Although six weeks have passed since the conversations began on August 21, there was still no official disclosure of what the new organization will consist of, beyond the fact of its having a general assembly, a council dominated by the big powers, and an international court.

Large Measure Of Agreement

Today's communique said the six weeks' conversations "have been useful and have led to a large measure of agreement on recommendations for the general framework of the organization, and in particular for the machinery required to maintain peace and security."

The statement added that the three delegations are making reports to their respective governments. The next step will be a simultaneous statement by the three governments.

This statement will disclose to the world for the first time the full details of what the new world security organization will consist of. It will not be issued, however, until the close of the Chinese phase of the conversations, which was scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AMPLE TURKEY

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(INS)

William M. Walsh, area supervisor of the war food administration, today declared that residents of Western Pennsylvania would have ample turkey for their holiday meals this year.

Although some sections have been told to keep all turkey produce for the armed forces, no move of that kind has been made in this area, he said.

The Azores appear on the maps of medieval Arabian geographers, and on an Italian map of 1351.

ESCAPES FROM GERMAN

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29.—(INS)

Flight Officer Karl Yohn, 20, former Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph employee, was one of seven U. S. airmen who escaped German captivity in Holland with the aid of the Netherlands resistance movement. It was learned today.

Yohn and the other airmen bailed out over a section of Holland which was still in German hands. Yohn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yohn, of Carick, said they have received word their son is "safe and well."

He had previously been reported missing.

Europeans discovered gold on the Brazilian plateau in 1693.

The word "quarantine" has its derivation from the Latin "quadraginta," which means "forty," and was the original number of days a quarantine lasted.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 29.—(INS)—The State Defense Council announced today the names of the first five men appointed disaster coordinators in line with Gov. Edward Martin's reorganization plan and anticipated more than 800 other persons would soon be named to similar posts elsewhere.

A spokesman said coordinators were expected to be named in 67 counties, 48 municipalities, 61 first class townships and more than 650 of the state's 950 boroughs.

Governor Martin ordered the council September 19 to reorganize for action in home front emergencies and to cooperate with his 10-member emergency disaster committee.

Council Director Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison said that mayors and councils of numerous cities have notified him that the appointment would be made in the near future.

Those appointed were: Robert A. Blair, Erie; Carl T. Bechtel, McKeesport; J. A. Bailey, Emporium; chairman of the Cameron County Defense Council; Harry C. Huntingdon, of Bradford; and Herbert Woodstock, Hanover township, Luzerne county.

Eleven Are Dead In Bomber Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 29.—(INS)—Army officials investigated today the crash of a bomber last night 23 miles east of Tucuman, N. M., in which 11 men were killed.

The victims included: Second Lt. Richard D. Denison, Clinton, O., and Sgt. Frank J. McKenna, Jr., Philadelphia.

It cost $8.25 and took 2.8 man-hours to load a 240-mm. howitzer shell in April, 1943. It cost $5.02 and took 1.5 man-hours to load the same shell in February, 1944.

Arraign Censor In Money Disappearance

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(INS)—A censor, charged with taking money from letters and clipping all references to cash gifts from the text, today was held for arraignment in federal court.

The censor, Joaquin Quevedo, 43, a former singer now a $2,300 a year employee of the office of censorship, was accused of stealing $60 from letters from persons in Italy to Italian prisoners of war in this country.

Indicted by a federal grand jury on three counts, Quevedo was said to have been caught after a sender had asked a recipient in a subsequent letter if a money gift had been received.

Mock Election Plans Are Made At Westminster

Getting into the swing of the campaign season, students of Westminster college's International Relations club are planning a mock election, complete with party headquarters and election officials.

Although the IRC group, under the leadership of Miss Hilda McDowell, a junior, is sponsoring the affair, students from all groups of the student body will be working for one party or the other before long.

If the IRC have their way, there will not only be campaign speakers, but student representatives of Dewey, Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt, too. Chairmen have already been appointed to organize publicity and to set up headquarters for the two parties, and before another week the Westminster campaign season will be on.

If radio time is paid for and therefore considered "political," the president will be introduced as "Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for re-election as president of the United States." ## Celebrates 90th Birthday; Recalls City's Progress

Miss Elizabeth W. Smith, one of the forty-three guests at the Almira Home where she has resided for the past six years, is celebrating her 90th birthday anniversary today in a quiet fashion, and her many friends join in extending congratulations.

Miss Smith, a sister of the late C. Ed. Smith, is the eldest and last of a family of eleven. She was born in Pittsburgh on Smithfield street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, just across from the Custom House. The father of the family came to New Castle in 1863 as foreman for John C. Knox. He built the First Christian church, of which they were faithful members.

The family moved here in 1864. Miss Smith, who is remarkable for her age having clear hearing, keen eyes, a vivid memory and a sunny disposition, remembers so distinctly the laying of the corner stone of the First Christian church in 1894. "I have seen a lot of changes in New Castle," she said, "but I have not seen the changes in the district of Washington street and the North Hill are now replaced with homes and buildings. I have been a member of the First Christian church for the past 68 years, and today the Women's Bible Class and the Aide Society surprised me with a lovely dinner served in the church assembly room, commemorating my birthday. A large birthday cake and ice cream finished off a beautiful twelve month, and oh, I'm so stuffed!"

In reminiscing, Miss Smith spoke of her brother, the late William Smith who served as juvenile officer of New Castle. He passed away twenty-two years ago. Other residents and dear friends she recalled in her conversation, and her face brightened up when she replied to a question with "I go to Sunday School every Sunday alone, making all my trips on the bus. I go everywhere on the bus."

Her walk is spry for a person of her years, and she takes a decided interest in every day activities. "The radio news gets me a bit too excited, but I do listen," she confessed. When confronted on the political news, she stated "Of the four wars I have seen, I would much rather see the first and second one, to this present war, I pray to God to end it soon."

and God has always been kind in answering my prayers; that is why I'm here today as well and happy as I am."

Miss Smith attributes her longevity to keeping busy. She quilts beautifully, crochets and gets much pleasure out of remodeling clothes. At one time, "she was one of the finest seamstresses and tailors of the community."

Mrs. Rose Sloan, superintendent of the Almira Home says:

"Miss Smith is a most delightful resident. She is at the breakfast table at 7:30 a. m., dinner at noon, and lunch in the evening at 5:15 and seems one of the happiest personalities in the Almira Home. All love her and enjoy being in her company."

Thursday, the hostess groups at the church rounded out their informal program giving her a surprise of money, the presentation being made by Mrs. J. F. Hay for the organization. Also today, the Bible Class and the Aide Society sent two large birthday cakes topped with candles to the Almira Home and at noon, as an additional celebration and to enable her friends there, to share her birthday anniversary.

Says Success Of Marriages Can Be Charted In Advance

Ill-Advised Marriages Usually End In Divorce, Survey Reveals

CHICAGO—(INS)—The chances of success in marriage largely can be charted in advance, Ernest W. Burgess, Professor of Sociology at the University of Chicago, reported recently.

Burgess found after an extensive questionnaire survey that most divorces and domestic strife resulted from marriages that were ill-advised to begin with.

Whether or not a marriage is ill-advised can be answered by a study of the backgrounds, tastes and interests of the prospective bride and groom, the professor wrote in the American Journal of Sociology.

Burgess, working with Paul Wallin, formerly of the Stanford University faculty and now in the armed services, made public these conclusions after a study of 565 couples during the engagement period and then again approximately three and a half years after their marriage.

The questions asked after marriage were largely the same as those asked before marriage. Typical questions:

1. In leisure time do you prefer to be out or in?

2. Do you and your fiancée engage in interests and activities together?

3. Does your fiancée confide in you?

4. Do you confide in your fiancée?

5. Frequency of demonstration of affection shown by fiancée. Practically all the time; very frequently; occasionally; seldom.

6. Are you satisfied with the amount of affection demonstrated?

7. Extent of agreement between couple on money matters, matters of recreation, religion, demonstration of affection, friends, table manners, matters of conventional propriety, philosophy of life, respective families dates with each other.

8. Do you ever wish you had not become engaged?

9. Have you ever contemplated breaking your engagement?

10. If you could, what things would you change in your fiancée in physical appearance, in mental or temperamental or personality characteristics, in family habits, in any other way?

11. If you could, what would you change in yourself?

Burgess found that these factors have an important relation to adjustment in married life; the parents of both husband and wife are happily married; agreement of the couple in desiring children; close attachment of the couple to their respective parents; similarity of cultural and family backgrounds.

These factors were found to have "little or no" relation to marital success: difference in religious preferences; differences in education level; differences in economic status of parents of the bride and groom.

Of only "moderate" importance to marriage, Burgess found, are: length of attendance at Sunday school; extent of membership in organizations; moderate income at time of marriage; a high ratio of savings to income; later age of marriage early marriage of the wife before 21 or the husband before 24 are unfavorable; marriage in church; length of period of acquaintance before marriage; wedding performed by a minister.

From October 10 on retailers may take their blue tokens in quantities of 250 or multiples of that number, to a bank, where they will be given credit for that amount of ration points. If they do not have bank accounts, they may take their tokens to the ration board, where they can have them exchanged, said Mr. McPate.

Pooling of tokens, while not customarily permitted, is allowed in case consumers do not have enough of the tokens to get rationed foods themselves, Mr. McPate continued.

Several may then go together and buy rationed foods with their combined blue tokens.

Says Republican Women Stirred By P.A.C. Campaign

Leader Of G.O.P. Women Says They Are Actively At Work In Dewey Campaign

By JANE COCHRAN

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Sidney Hillman and the CIO political action committee, more than any other factor, have set women actively working in the Republican campaign cause, Miss Marion Martin, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, asserted today.

"The political action committee has stirred up Republican women as nothing else has," Miss Martin head of the party's women's division said. "Its campaign and propaganda has dramatized the threat to our form of government that now exists and women are aroused."

"You remember," she added, "it was the women who got aroused at the court packing. In recent years they've been rather lax in political activities as there hasn't been anything to focus their attention but Sidney Hillman has done that now."

Women's specific objections to the political action committee, Miss Martin believes, are:

"They objected first to Hillman's control of the Democratic convention, and then, to the selfishness of the CIO's whole program of rewarding friends and opposing enemies."

A lot of friends may have voting records okay on the CIO's pet issues, but the rest of their voting record is bad."

She pointed out the case of Margaret Smith, recently elected Republican representative from Maine against the political action committee's opposition.

Fear Many Deaths From Air Crashes When War Is Over

ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—If the pre-war fatality ratio in crashes of privately owned planes is maintained, many persons will be killed in the 300,000 planes predicted for post-war private ownership as were killed in 1941 by 6,000,000 automobiles.

This is the statement of Hugh DeHaven, Cornell Medical College staff member, who analyzed 30 aircraft crashes that had been studied by the civil aeronautics board and the national research council.

DeHaven suggested interior design changes on private planes, including elimination of projecting structures where they might conceivably be within the range of a crash-catapulted body, and the presentation of a smooth surface, capable of yielding under heavy impact.

Detroit Firm Is Looking To Future

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Organization of the Fisher Motor Car company and Fisher Brothers, Inc., an identical corporation, to engage in the manufacture and sale of automobiles and airplanes, was revealed in Detroit today.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Dover, Del., it was learned.

The papers state that the companies seek authorization "to design, manufacture, assemble, distribute, sell, repair, export and import airplanes, automobiles, motor coaches, motor trucks, engines, bodies and any and all motor products."

Confirmation of the plans was not available from the Fisher Brothers in Detroit, however.

An average of 16,000 families in the United States adopt children every year.

A body falls 16 feet in the first second of descent and 48 feet in the second.

Himmler Prepares Nazi Underground

Gestapo Chief Recognizes War Is Lost, Gets Underground Forces Ready

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—The German general staff, recognizing inevitability of defeat in this war, already is thinking in terms of the next one and Gestapo chieftain Heinrich Himmler is organizing a Nazi underground for resistance against Allied occupation "for many years hence," Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today.

The present "marked improvement" in Allied fortunes of war does not mean the main struggle is over, however, Eden said.

Many residents of Iceland heat their homes with hot water piped from geysers.

Given 12 Days To Eat Or Sell His 13 Chickens

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(INS)—That old slogan, "a chicken in every pot" holds no charms for Joseph Asaro, 35 years old, of Brooklyn. In fact, quite the reverse.

In Flatbush court, Magistrate James A. Blanchard gave him 13 days in which to eat or otherwise dispose of 12 chickens the health department charges he housed on his roof in violation of the sanitary code.

Asaro explained that he was unable to keep the fowls in his victory garden because they would damage the crops.

"I thought I was being patriotic," he said wistfully. "We've been told we should raise garden stuff and do everything to conserve food."

"At first, I had 18 chickens, but the neighbors began to complain. Now, I've eaten six of them and I'm awfully sick of them. For heaven's sake, if I've got to eat the other 12, give me enough time."

The magistrate, apparently believing 13 days was enough time to dispose of 12 chickens, paroled him for that period. Asaro will have to report to the court on his progress.

EXPECT YEAR OF WAR

VANCOUVER, Wash.—(INS)—Unconditional surrender of Germany cannot be expected for another year in the opinion of former Italian prisoners of war now quartered at Vancouver Barracks. Now classified as co-belligerents, and organized into a quartermaster service unit, the Italians think Germany will fight for life when the Reich is invaded.

ADMIRABLE

NEW YORK.—(INS)—Some 350 men and women of the South Jersey Board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America who went into the armed forces in the last year, are going to get vacation checks of $30 each, the union announces. Eventually the union hopes to extend the benefit to all its 15,000 members in the armed forces.

Russians In New Danube Crossing

LONDON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—The Nazi DNB agency reported today that Red army troops have forced a new crossing of the Danube river south of the Iron Gate on the Romanian-Yugoslavian border seven miles west of Russian-held Turnu Severin.

Editor's Note—The Iron Gate is the region of the Danube narrows which, flanked by steep mountains, dominate the approach to the Hunarian plains and much of Central Europe.

DEFENDS REVIVALS

CHICAGO.—(INS)—The old-fashioned revival—which brings religion to the individual—is one of the basic strengths of Christianity, in the opinion of Dr. William W. Sweet, of the University of Chicago. Without revivalism, religion will decline, Dr. Sweet told 200 ministers and educators attending the 12th annual Pastor's Institute.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Dr.

Wellington Koo, chief of the Chinese delegation to the Dumbarton Oaks conference, said today the Chinese plan was closely similar to the British and American plans, and he saw no obstacle to agreement on an international peace and security organization.

Koo made this statement just before the opening of the Chinese phase of the conference today.

Following a plenary session yesterday of the Russian, British and American delegates, the Russians withdrew and the Chinese entered the conference for the first time.

Koo acknowledged that this procedure, which the Russians had insisted upon, has retarded the speed of action, but he expected that any differences which might now arise between the Chinese and Russian plans might be settled outside the conference by diplomatic exchange.

Has Suffered Longer

The veteran diplomat, who has served as Chinese ambassador to Washington and London, declared:

"China has suffered war longer than other countries, and is deeply interested in international cooperation to maintain peace. It is a traditional policy with China."

He made it clear that the Chinese delegation enters the conversations not in a mood to find fault with what the other delegations have accomplished, but, he said, "with a determination to make a success of the entire undertaking."

Having studied in advance the American and British plans for the new league of nations, Koo said:

"There is nothing in these plans which we cannot subscribe to. The only differences between them and the Chinese plan are a matter of degree. We wish to strengthen certain points, and make sure that the mistakes of the old league shall be eliminated."

For example, the Chinese plan carries a specific and detailed definition of aggression which is not contained in the other plans, Koo explained.

"Potential aggressors should be put on notice in advance as to what acts will be regarded as offensive to international order."

High Gridders To Face Tough Foe Away From Home

New Castle High Eleven Going To Sharon For Battle This Evening

New Castle high school football team will travel to Sharon tonight for the fourth game on the 1944 card, opposing a star-studded Sharon high eleven, at Sharon stadium, at 8 o'clock. This will be the third class AA game for New Castle, and the first for Sharon.

Sharon has an imposing record to lay on the line this evening, having defeated Stowe Township, Pottsville and Taylor-Allegheny the latter of Pittsburgh in the three games played to date. New Castle has lost two and won from Butler.

Sharon has been using the T-formation this year with great success, the attack being centered around the star Nicky Lyndon, the quarterback, a three-year veteran and a power on offense and defense. The rest of the Sharon backfield will feature Bayer and Cunningham at the halves and Bailey at fullback. Sharon last defeated New Castle back in 1937 and by a score of 7 to 0. The closest they have come in the past seven years to turning the trick again was in 1942 when the battle ended 13-13. Sharon has bright hopes of winning this contest tonight.

Look For Battle

New Castle has gotten ready for the annual battle with Sharon with lots of better material than at present and with more experienced players only to have the Bengals chew them up, so it was with foreboding that the coaches all week went about the business of getting the "Red Hurricane" in shape for the battle that awaits them.

"Sharon is big, tough and strong and have a wealth of fine backfield material led by this man Kysvintz."

President Michael J. Donovan and five of eight managers in the City Baseball league met last night at the Y. M. C. A. and decided to start the play-off for the City championship Sunday.

Johnson Bronze and Moose, teams 1 and 3, in the standing, will clash at 2:45 p. m. Sunday at Marshall field.

West Pittsburg and Shenango Pottery will play two games on Sunday at West Pittsburg. Donovan said today. The first game will start at 1:30 o'clock.

The winner of the Moose-Bronze and I. A. M. and team yet to be learned will then clash for the title at a date also to be named by President Donovan.

Leo Hill, president of the Umpires association in behalf of the arbiters asked for a 50 cents per game increase for the play-off series but the managers refused the request stating that a price for umpiring had been agreed upon at the start of the season.

President Hill will meet with the umpires tonight at the Y. M. C. A. to arrange for assignments.

V-12 Students Can Play Football Is Ruling From Navy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Navy Department spokesmen made it plain today that the Navy's recent order barring members of "ship's company" from competing in college athletic events does not affect the vast majority of V-12 students throughout the nation.

These students, officials said, may continue to take an active part in college sports, including football.

The Navy explained that members of the "ship's company" at colleges and universities are the administrative force for the V-12 program, such as instructors.

Members of the "ship's company" usually officers with college degrees, may not take part in college sports, regardless of the fact that they may themselves be enrolled in some post-graduate courses at the schools at which they are stationed.

Flag Race May Be Over Today

Exciting Race In American League Today, Tigers Vs Senators; Browns Vs Yanks

By JOHN CASHMAN

(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The weatherman never was eyed so keenly during a pennant fight as he is being eyed today in St. Louis and Detroit.

With the Tigers-Senators game in Detroit and the Yanks-Browns battle in St. Louis washed out yesterday with the rest of the American league slate, double-headers among the fighting teams were necessitated today and if played, will just about decide the hot American league pennant race. Should these and the rest of the remaining crucial games be washed out, the Tigers will be floated into the pennant by one game.

Steve O'Neill's men, however, are not depending on a flood-tide to carry them into their first flag since 1940. Two triumphs over the Senators with concurrent double losses by the Browns to the Yanks would give the Tigers the 1944 A. L. championship and establish them as opponents of the St. Louis Cards in the world series starting in St. Louis Wednesday.

Yanks About Out

Today's schedule is crammed with exciting potentialities. With four games left to play, the Yankees, now all but counted out of the race, could leap to within a game of the Tigers through a double-win over the Browns while the Tigers were losing two. Two losses by the Tigers and a pair of wins by the Browns would put the St. Louis boys ahead by a game. Hot? This race is blistering.

Of the three teams in the scrap, the Yankees are least favored by the schedule, since the Tigers and Browns finish at home. It was only through their recent efforts that the Yankee road record was lifted to a .500 average, and even should they win the remaining four games, they would have to be helped along by Detroit losses to stay in contention.

Only the two National league games were left unmoistened yesterday. Billy Southworth fielded the Cards against the New York Giants minus Stan Musial, Johnny Hop, Ray Sanders and Slaty Marion, and started a pitcher who heretofore has been more used to bull pens. Blix Donnelly, The Cards still won, 2 to 0, and Donnelly went the route.

The Cincinnati Reds spotted the Brooklyn Dodgers five runs, then whipped the Bums, 10 to 6.

WASHINGTON HI TRIPS ELLWOOD

Gribble Scores Twice As North Hillers Open 1944 Grid Card, Final Score, 12-0

George Washington Junior high school football team opened the 1944 card at the Washington high field yesterday afternoon in the rain and defeated Ellwood City Junior high 12 to 0. The big Washington team looked impressive in the lid litter.

Gribble tallied both of the Washington touchdowns, one on a line plunge and the other on a 30-yard dash. Gilmore did a lot of nice blocking and Allison played a whale of a game at center. The whole Washington team played fine ball all the way.

Next week Coach Art Alexander will take his team to Campbell, Ohio for the second game on the card. Washington high has a lot of possibilities this year, according to those who watched them.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin urged Pennsylvania hunters Thursday to observe safety precautions during the week of October 23 designated by the Pennsylvania game commission as "Hunt Safely Week."

PRICE CHANGES IN MARKET NARROW

Large Fractional Changes In Few Specialties Only Feature In Friday Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(INS)—The stock market price changes were narrow and meaningless today. Except for large fractional movements in a few specialties the market followed a mixed course with volume at less than 150,000 shares an hour.

The bond market was dull and quiet.

Aviations, chemicals and steel issues showed only minor changes in forenoon trading. Rail stocks edged forward with New York Central, Pennsylvania and Union Pacific leading. Chrysler was off but General Motors picked up a fraction. Lima Locomotive, Phelps Dodge, and International Nickel drifted lower. Utilities were featureless. J. I. Case up a half yesterday, gained nearly a point.

In the specialties Exello and Texas Pacific Land Trust were active at new 1944 highs.

Pittsburgh Girl Assault Victim

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—(INS)—Police today arrested a Philadelphia advertising executive after a 21-year-old chorus girl, found unaided on a mid-Philadelphia street, charged he assaulted her.

The young woman, who identified herself as Ruth Otterbeck, of Pittsburgh, said the advertising man, Murray Vernick, 26, hired her yesterday as a model, and made an engagement with her last evening.

Miss Otterbeck said Vernick took her to a mid-town apartment, which he said was his own. A short time later she was found unaided, suffering from contusions of the ear and jaw. She charged that Vernick followed her to the street and struck her.
